SUMMARY

A 70-acre military installation is on the northwest edge of Kolomyya along a secondary road one block east of the Kolomyya-Dobrokov road (Figure 1). There is no rail or air service directly to the installation, but the Kolomyya Airfield is 8 km east and the Kolomyya-Chernovtsy railroad passes 3 km east.

Visible within the installation are three multistory administration buildings, 10 barracks, three storage buildings, and four small support buildings (Figures 2 and 3). At the north end of the installation is a road-served 560- by 120-foot possible earth-mounded bunker, possibly vented. Five small support buildings are in the immediate vicinity and a probable gatehouse is at the entrance to the bunker. An athletic field is near the main entrance to the south end of the installation. East of the installation is a driver-training area with various road patterns and a small building. A motor vehicle park containing two 480- by 50-foot buildings and six small utility buildings is just south of the bunker.
